Grafenwoehr Earth Day

May 12, 2011

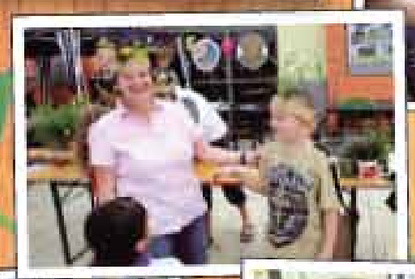
Protecting Soil, Air and Water and Supporting the Training Mission

The Grafenwoehr Directorate of Public Works Environmental Division and the Operations and Maintenance Branch, The Bundesforst Grafenwoehr, The Joint Multinational Training Command (JMTC) Integrated Training Management (ITAM) office and local environmentally friendly firms and organizations introduced local Grafenwoehr residents and their children to the outstanding Earth-friendly programs are available locally and sponsored by the U.S. military community, as well as those promoted by their German neighbours in the surrounding Grafenwoehr area.

The Grafenwoehr Community Earth Day 2011 event was hosted by Col. Avanelas R. Smiley, the Grafenwoehr Community Commander.

U.S. Army Grafenwoehr Directorate of Public Works, Environmental Division

Grafenwoehr Community Kids make every day Earth Day!



For information on environmetally friendly programs and events in the Grafenwoehr Community visit www.grafenwoehr.army.mil/usag_dpw

To find out more about JMTC's Integrated Training Area Management environmental stewardship visit https://srp.usareur.army.mil