

Welcome to the 54th Engineer Battalion

The 54th Engineer Battalion is located on Warner Barracks in Bamberg, Germany. One of the most important actions for any incoming Soldier is to request and communicate with a sponsor from your new unit. Once you have been identified by Human Resources Command (HRC) as an inbound Soldier to the 54th Engineer Battalion, the Battalion S-1 will further assign you to a company and also assign you a sponsor in the U.S. Army Europe (USAREUR) Sponsorship Gate (S-Gate). The time frame to obtain a sponsor is within 120 days before your arrival.

Feel free to contact your sponsor to request information about your new unit. If you have problems logging into the USAREUR S-Gate Portal, please contact S-1, whose numbers can be found below. Your sponsor will make every effort to answer any and all your questions about your upcoming arrival to the unit. Please read below for further information on how to contact the Battalion S-1, how to apply for a sponsor, and how to access the USAREUR S-Gate Portal.

How do I apply for a sponsor?

A sponsor can help your family and you get acquainted in your new community and can help you find all the local resources, both military and civilian. Most Soldiers with pinpoint assignments can request a sponsor through the S-Gate site.

What can S-Gate tell me?

- The location of your assignment
- How to get in contact with your sponsor
- How to request specific information
- Where to find helpful Web sites on the Internet

How do I access S-Gate?

1. Visit the USAREUR UDPD Applications Portal at:
<https://www.updb.hqusareur.army.mil/portal/default.asp>
2. Log in using your AKO username and password, or with your CAC.
3. Click on “FIND SPONSOR (S-GATE)”
4. Enter identifying information if required, i.e. SSN, Date of birth, Primary MOS
5. Click on “Inbound Pinpoint Assignment & Sponsor Info” and then click “Submit”
6. Fill out any additional required information and you should see your projected unit, sponsor’s name, and his/her contact information.
