USAREUR announces latest transformation initiative

HEIDELBERG, Germany— U.S. Army Europe will relocate Company G, 52nd Aviation Regiment from Italy to Germany to enhance Command and Control of training, maintenance and flight standardization. The Germany-based aviation assets will maintain the current level of support to U.S. Army units in Italy while improving the efficiency of their operations.

Two Fixed-winged aircraft (C-12) will be relocated to Stuttgart and two rotary-winged aircraft (UH60) will be relocated to Mannheim.

In Italy there is a net population decrease of 85 Soldiers and an estimated decrease of 128 Family members; an approximate total decrease of 213 U.S. personnel.

In Germany the U.S. Army total population in Germany will increase by approximately 213 U.S. personnel (approximate increase of 85 Soldiers and 128 Family members).

- Stuttgart: net population increase of five Soldiers and an estimated increase of eight (8) Family members; approximate total increase of 13 U.S. personnel.
- Mannheim: net population increase of 80 Soldiers and an estimated increase 120 Family members; approximate total increase of 200 U.S. personnel.

These numbers reflect the total personnel associated with the units and organizations in this announcement. The impact on both military and civilian personnel will vary, based on the disposition of their units and the status of individual Soldiers and employees.
