

USAREUR Local National Internship Opportunities

Program Year 2019

(as of 1 February 2019)

Wiesbaden

I-20: Installation Management Command - Europe, USAG Wiesbaden, Public Affairs Office

- Intern will learn Public Relations, Public Affairs, Media Relations, Community Relations, Journalism and Photography. Projects would be focused largely around the planning of the 2019 Berlin Airlift Celebration; the Garrison Change of Command; and others. Intern would have the opportunity to experience multiple facets of the Public Affairs field.
 - Applicable area of study: Public Relations, Journalism, Public Affairs, Marketing

I-21: Installation Management Command - Europe, USAG Wiesbaden, Government Relations Office

- Intern will learn to interface with local officials from the City of Wiesbaden, City of Mainz, State of Hessen and surrounding areas. Intern will take part in planning and execution of major international relations events.
 - Applicable area of study: International Gov't Relations, Public Relations, Journalism, Public Affairs, Marketing, English/German Translation

I-22: Installation Management Command - Europe, USAG Wiesbaden, Directorate of Family, Morale, Welfare and Recreation

- Intern will learn budget formulation and analysis, Process Improvement and business case analysis for a wide range of Morale Welfare and Recreation programs.
 - Applicable area of study: General/International Accounting, Business Administration

I-23: Installation Management Command - Europe, USAG Wiesbaden, Directorate of Human Resources,

- Intern will gain valuable experience by developing and implementing a comprehensive marketing plan for the Directorate of Human Resources.
 - Applicable area of study: Business Administration/Marketing

I-24: Installation Management Command - Europe, USAG Wiesbaden, Directorate of Plans, Training, Security and Mobilization, Plans, Analysis and Integration Office

- Intern will gain valuable experience dealing with Program and Management Analysis, Strategic Planning and Project Management in support of cross-functional integration of garrison services.
 - Applicable area of study: Business Administration, International Business, Project Management, Statistics

U-2: USAREUR, HQ USAREUR, Political Advisor Office

- Learn the functions of the Foreign Policy Advisors Office and experience direct liaison with Congressional representatives and administrative responsibilities associated.
 - Applicable area of study: Political Science, US History

Additional opportunities may be offered in the future. Applicable areas of study are suggestions only and will not determine eligibility. Learning experiences may be modified based on Intern and organizational needs.

USAREUR Local National Internship Opportunities

Program Year 2019

(as of 1 February 2019)

Wiesbaden (continued)

U-3: USAREUR, HQ USAREUR, Public Affairs Office

- Learn Public Relations, Public Affairs, Media Relations, Community Relations, Journalism and Photography. Projects would include assisting the Public Affairs staff in organizing medium/large media events within the Community.
 - Applicable area of study: Public Relations, Journalism

U-4: USAREUR, HQ USAREUR, Office of the Staff Judge Advocate

- Learn about the field of Legal Services in USAREUR at various internship stations in different divisions of the Office of the Judge Advocate. The relevant legal fields include, amongst other, International Law and German Civil, Criminal and Public Law.
 - Applicable area of study: International Agreements, German Labor Law, Tax Law, Environmental Law, Tort Law, Criminal Law and other areas of German public and civil law

U-5: USAREUR, HQ USAREUR, Strategic Effects

- Learn how USAREUR integrates Strategic Planning, and builds upon Host Nation Relations. Examine further details and requirements of different aspects involving protocol and Event Coordination.
 - Applicable area of study: International Relations, Project management

U-6: USAREUR, HQ USAREUR, G1, Civilian Personnel Division

- Experience hands-on functional language translation and clerical services involved in real-world application of translation support to organizational leadership.
 - Applicable area of study: English, Foreign Language Studies/Translation

U-7: USAREUR, HQ USAREUR, G1, Civilian Personnel Division

- Learn about the application of Human Resources policies and procedures across international areas of operations. Focus on the application and management of policies that govern operations. Learn how Works Councils are integrated into an international setting.
 - Applicable area of study: International Human Resources, Business Administration, German Labor Law

U-8: USAREUR, HQ USAREUR, Executive Services Division

- Experience providing administrative and technical support to the Office of the Command General; coordinating work flow processes, maintaining and strengthening internal and external contacts, coordinating a variety of meetings and engagements as well as special events and other functions. Strategic Engagements, Host Nation Relations, Protocol, and Event Coordination.
 - Applicable area of study: International Hospitality, Business Administration, Project Management

U-10: USAREUR, HQ USAREUR, Office of the Chief of Staff, Host Nation Relations

- Intern will learn how USAREUR engages with host nation officials and members of the Bundeswehr/international militaries. Intern will learn the fundamentals of strategic communications, journalism and policy, as well as protocol and political engagement skills.
 - Applicable area of study: Public Affairs, Journalism, Public Relations, International Relations, Communications, Translating & Interpreting

Additional opportunities may be offered in the future. Applicable areas of study are suggestions only and will not determine eligibility. Learning experiences may be modified based on Intern and organizational needs.

USAREUR Local National Internship Opportunities

Program Year 2019

(as of 1 February 2019)

Stuttgart

I-15: Installation Management Command - Europe, USAG Stuttgart, Directorate of Resource Management

- Intern will work on Installation Support Agreements, Memorandums of Agreement (MOA) and Understanding (MOU) and international agreements for USAG Stuttgart. Projects include updating our current database of existing agreements, coordinating with tenant customers on new/updated agreements, identifying actions that need to take place to maintain compliance with DoD Instruction 4000.19 and Army Regulation 5-9.
 - Applicable area of study: Human Resources, Business Administration, International Business

Additional opportunities may be offered in the future. Applicable areas of study are suggestions only and will not determine eligibility. Learning experiences may be modified based on Intern and organizational needs.

USAREUR Local National Internship Opportunities

Program Year 2019

(as of 1 February 2019)

Kaiserslautern (including Sembach and Baumholder area)

A-1: 405th Army Material Command, Army Oil Analysis Program Lab

- Learn analysis processes, identification methods and testing procedures of various organic and inorganic substances such as oil, lubricants, etc. by using instruments like Spectrometer etc. Explore pre-operational checks and calibration processes and techniques. Focus on developing a real-world exploration of exact functions of instruments used for substance analysis.
 - Applicable area of study: Chemistry

T-1: 21st Theater Support Command, TLSC-E, Maintenance Activity Kaiserslautern

- Learn functions and operations with regard to various projects in Supply and Production Controls.
 - Applicable area of study: Information management, Logistics, Technical Economics

T-2: 21st Theater Support Command, TLSC-E, Supply Activity Europe

- Learn functions and operations with regard to various projects in Shipping and Receiving.
 - Applicable area of study: Logistics, Technical Economics

T-3: 21st Theater Support Command, TLSC-E, 6966th Transportation

- Learn functions and operations with of the overall organization and experience evaluating and improving efficiency and effectiveness through enhancement of manual processes.
 - Applicable area of study: Information Management

I-11: Installation Management Command - Europe, HQS IMCOM-E, Human Resources, Civilian Personnel

- Intern will learn Civilian Human Resource functions, Strategic Human Capital Planning, US Labor Laws and Management Employee Relations. Projects include being part of a team to present solutions to issues and develop a researched based assessment of labor issues in IMCOM.
 - Applicable area of study: Human Resources, Business Administration, International Business

I-12: Installation Management Command – Europe, VISE

- Intern will learn all aspects of VISE operations from our team of VISE Visual Information professionals including Electronic Graphics, Photography, Videography, Conference Support, Large Format Printing, and Work Order Management. Projects include developing graphic designs for key clients including, Acquire, Edit, Process, and Publish Photo and Video files of Ceremonies, Conferences, and Historical Events, Learn to develop marketing material and cost estimates for Visual Information projects.
 - Applicable area of study: Fine Arts, Photography, Videography, Audio Engineering, Digital Art and Graphics

I-14: Installation Management Command – Europe, USAG Rhineland-Pfalz, Directorate of Family, Morale, Welfare and Recreation, Community Recreation Division / Sports and Fitness (Kaiserslautern)

- Intern will learn Sports/Fitness functions; team sports programs and activities involving a variety of athletically related recurring and non-recurring activities such as special and intramural events. Projects will include Scheduling and publicizes various tournaments, and other sports events. Evaluate the effectiveness of ongoing sports activities from the standpoint of participants' response, resources, and program objectives. Scheduling of courts, track, and fields, and inspections and repairs.
 - Applicable area of study: Sport Management, Athletics, Exercise Physiology, Physical Education

Additional opportunities may be offered in the future. Applicable areas of study are suggestions only and will not determine eligibility. Learning experiences may be modified based on Intern and organizational needs.

USAREUR Local National Internship Opportunities

Program Year 2019

(as of 1 February 2019)

Kaiserslautern (including Sembach and Baumholder area)(continued)

I-13: Installation Management Command – Europe, USAG Rhineland-Pfalz, Directorate of Family, Morale, Welfare and Recreation, Community Recreation Division / Sports and Fitness (Baumholder)

- Intern will learn Sports/Fitness functions; team sports programs and activities involving a variety of athletically related recurring and non-recurring activities such as special and intramural events. Projects will include Scheduling and publicizes various tournaments, and other sports events. Evaluate the effectiveness of ongoing sports activities from the standpoint of participants' response, resources, and program objectives. Scheduling of courts, track, and fields, and inspections and repairs.
 - Applicable area of study: Sport Management, Athletics, Exercise physiology, Physical education

I-16: Installation Management Command – Europe, USAG Rhineland-Pfalz, Directorate of Family, Morale, Welfare and Recreation, Community Recreation Division / Library (Landstuhl)

- Intern will learn Librarian functions, theories, principles, and practices of librarianship to select, organize, preserve, access, manage, and disseminate information associated with public/patron services including services for children and/or teens, technical services, and automation services. Projects will include performing technical services functions including acquisitions, procurement, cataloging/classification, physical processing, and accountability of materials.
 - Applicable area of study: Library Science, Information Services, Information Management

I-17: Installation Management Command – Europe, USAG Rhineland-Pfalz, Directorate of Family, Morale, Welfare and Recreation, Community Recreation Division / Library (Baumholder)

- Intern will learn Librarian functions, theories, principles, and practices of librarianship to select, organize, preserve, access, manage, and disseminate information associated with public/patron services including services for children and/or teens, technical services, and automation services. Projects will include performing technical services functions including acquisitions, procurement, cataloging/classification, physical processing, and accountability of materials.
 - Applicable area of study: Library Science, Information Services, Information Management

Additional opportunities may be offered in the future. Applicable areas of study are suggestions only and will not determine eligibility. Learning experiences may be modified based on Intern and organizational needs.

USAREUR Local National Internship Opportunities

Program Year 2019

(as of 1 February 2019)

Grafenwoehr (including Vilseck area)

U-9: USAREUR, 7th Army Training Command, Sustainable Range Program, Integrated Training Area Management (ITAM)

- Gain an in-depth look into sustainable land management practices and understanding the role of working with Governmental and local stakeholders (Environmental, Forestry and surrounding Communities) towards developing solutions for military training and natural resource protection. Real world applications in using Geographic Information Systems (GIS) for data collection and research.
 - Applicable area of study: Geography, Natural Resource Management, Forestry and Environmental Sciences.

I-10: Installation Management Command – Europe, USAG Bavaria, Directorate of Family, Morale, Welfare and Recreation

- Experience being part of an Interactive Team with creating and monitoring content for social media platforms based on marketing messaging and goals. Learn about processes developing on-site events. Real-world application of learned creative techniques to new marketing tools, and understand development and evaluation of customer surveys.
 - Applicable area of study: Digital Marketing/Advertising

I-6: Installation Management Command – Europe, USAG Bavaria, Public Affairs Office

- Learn the functions of a Public Affairs Specialist and Community Relations Specialist. Practical experience writing feature length articles, website updates, message plans and social media strategies. Gain a deeper understanding of military protocol functions. Take an active role and hands-on experience to coordinate tours, organize ceremonies and track invitations.
 - Applicable area of study: Public Relations, Communications, Journalism, Protocol, Community Relations, Media Relations

I-7: Installation Management Command – Europe, USAG Bavaria, Directorate of Public Works, Environmental Division

- Gain an in-depth look into local Environmental Projects and understand the Installations role in working with local government and community to enable a shared understanding of environmental protection, conservation and cultivating priorities and protections.
 - Applicable area of study: Biology, environmental studies, history (monumental conservation)

I-8: Installation Management Command – Europe, USAG Bavaria, Religious Services

- Learn how the Religious Support Operations (RSO) and functions support the community. Learning experience will incorporate an introduction and exposure to ministry and chapel setting. Intern will be given the opportunity to develop basic administrative and computer technical skills, attend staff meetings and presentation briefs. Additional focus areas include planning and administrative functions, and event management for medium size training events alongside of RSO personnel.
 - Applicable area of study: Social Studies, Media studies, Marketing

I-24: Installation Management Command – Europe, USAG Bavaria, Directorate of Public Works, Environmental Division, Compliance and Conservation Branch

- Intern will get an overview of the environmental program in a Military Training Area setting covering compliance, pollution prevention, conservation and restoration. Tasks and learning objectives: evaluation of different habitat/biotope types, surveying and mapping of endangered species, practical support in nature protection measures, monitoring of nesting boxes, amphibian protection measures, hazardous waste storage inspections, and preparation of educational material for schoolchildren.
 - Applicable areas of study: Biology, Geo-Ecology, Landscaping, Environmental Sciences

Additional opportunities may be offered in the future. Applicable areas of study are suggestions only and will not determine eligibility. Learning experiences may be modified based on Intern and organizational needs.

USAREUR Local National Internship Opportunities

Program Year 2019

(as of 1 February 2019)

Ansbach

I-1: Installation Management Command – Europe, USAG Ansbach, Directorate of Public Works, Housing Division

- Intern will learn Housing management activities; study all branch activities, occupancy requirements, maintenance, furnishing requirement, budget and financial controls, administrative practices, resident relations, and other related local practices. Projects will include activity reports, summaries, and management analysis to identify and rectify deficiencies.
 - Applicable area of study: Business Administration, Project Management, Hospitality Management and Administration

I-2: Installation Management Command – Europe, USAG Ansbach, Directorate of Public Works, Environmental Management Division

- Intern will gain an in-depth look into local Environmental Projects and understand the Installations role in working with local government and community to enable a shared understanding of environmental protection, conservation and cultivating priorities and protections. Intern will focus on environmental issues; areas include natural resources, compliance for all media areas, environmental cleanup, environmental stewardship and outreach to the community.
 - Applicable area of study: Environmental Engineering, Geology, Biology

I-3: Installation Management Command – Europe, USAG Ansbach, Directorate of Resource management

- Intern will get introduction into administrative, budgetary and analytical duties in the formulation, presentation, and execution of the administrative and management portion of the appropriated fund budget of the employing organization/installation.
 - Applicable area of study: Financial management, General/International Accounting, Business Administration

I-4: Installation Management Command – Europe, USAG Ansbach, Directorate of Resource management

- Intern will get introduction into the Manpower and Agreements section of the Resource Management Office, learning about the administrative management of the Garrison's work force structure and management, and the processes associated with creating and managing agreements with other organizations.
 - Applicable area of study: Financial management, General/International Accounting, Business Administration

I-5: Installation Management Command – Europe, USAG Ansbach, Directorate of Human Resources, Workforce Development

- Intern will learn how to develop a human-resource strategy. Develop and execute a training program to include a variety of complex administrative and HR support areas that support the continued professional development of employees of the organization. Gain a greater understanding of theoretical application of employee engagement in a practical environment..
 - Applicable area of study: Human Resources, Business Administration

Additional opportunities may be offered in the future. Applicable areas of study are suggestions only and will not determine eligibility. Learning experiences may be modified based on Intern and organizational needs.